INTRODUCTION

This publication is intended to help you understand and interpret entries on the driving records available from Oregon Driver and Motor Vehicle Services (DMV).

RECORD TYPES

There are four types of driving records available: Certified court prints; nonemployment driving records; nonemployment, open-ended driving records; and employment driving records.

- The certified court print driving record includes most traffic violations and accident entries for at least the previous five years. Serious criminal traffic offenses, such as driving under the influence of intoxicants, may remain on the record permanently.
- The nonemployment driving record has entries for at least the previous three years. This record lists all nonemployment-related accidents, convictions, suspensions, cancellations, revocations, and diversion agreements.
- The nonemployment, open-ended driving record contains the same information as a nonemployment driving record but is not limited to three years and is available only for the purpose of providing insurance discount to an individual.
- The employment driving record is a three-year record that is limited to convictions and accidents the driver had while on the job.

For each record type there are two versions of the record available: (1) a version containing the driver's personal information and (2) a version that has the driver's personal information removed (sanitized). Personal information is removed from a record if a requestor does not qualify to receive it under Oregon's Record Privacy Law (ORS 802.175-802.191) or does not have a written, notarized permission slip from the individual whose information is requested.

Personal information is: driver license, driver permit or identification number; name; address; and telephone number.

Under Oregon's Record Privacy Law, only certain qualified entities are allowed to receive personal information. These include such entities as attorneys, legitimate businesses, insurance companies, police agencies, and other government agencies. See the Records, Privacy & Account Holders section on the DMV website (www.oregondmv.com) for additional information.

FIXED ENTRIES

Fixed entries generally include information we record for each driver/customer, such as name, address, and date of birth. This portion of the record also contains information about any identification card or Oregon driving privilege the person holds, as well as endorsements, restrictions, and expiration dates.

VARIABLE ENTRIES

Variable entries are those that make up an individual's driving history, such as accidents, convictions, suspensions, revocations, cancellations, and other administrative actions. Variable entries may also include information about the type(s) of license, permit, and/or endorsement the person holds (or has held in the past).

FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Financial responsibility means the ability to pay for damages resulting from an automobile accident. The Financial Responsibility Law requires that proof of financial responsibility be carried in any vehicle operated on public highways or roads. Future responsibility must be filed and maintained for three years with DMV by persons suspended for the following reasons: uninsured accident, fail to furnish proof of insurance, driving uninsured, and false certification.

Future responsibility filings are also required at the end of mandatory suspensions or revocations issued by a court or DMV. These include traffic crimes such as reckless endangerment, menacing, criminal mischief, failure to perform the duties of a driver in an accident, reckless driving, DUII, etc.

IGNITION INTERLOCK DEVICE

A person is required to have an Ignition interlock devices (IID) on any vehicle they operate. The length of the requirement for an IID depends on the driver record:

- One year for a first DUII conviction; two years for a second or subsequent DUII conviction; or five years for an aggravated vehicular homicide conviction;
- Five years if the DUII conviction included, as part of the same criminal episode, a conviction for: murder; manslaughter in the first or second degree; criminally negligent homicide; or assault in the first degree;
- Five years if the DUII conviction included permanent revocation of driving privileges by a court under ORS 809.235(1)(b) and later ordered restored under ORS 809.235(4);
- For the length ordered by an Oregon court as a condition of a DUII diversion agreement.

The IID requirement starts from the date ordered by the court for a DUII diversion agreement; the end dates of the suspension or revocations caused by the conviction; and during a DUII suspension if the driver applies for a hardship permit. The following is an example of how IID entries appear on a driving record:

(a) (b) (c) (d)
STOP ACTION 01/02/11 01/02/13 IID REQUIRED

- (a) STOP calls attention to the requirement.

BLANK	The person has installed an IID on their personal vehicle.
DIVERSION	The person installed an IID as a condition of a Diversion agreement with a court.

MEDICALLY EXEMPT	The person has an exemption from the IID requirement due to a medical condition.

SUSPENSION, REVOCATION, AND CANCELLATION

Suspension is the temporary withdrawal of driving privileges. Revocation is the termination of driving privileges. Cancellation means the driver's license or ID card is void and terminated. All these actions affect the status of Oregon driving privileges.

NOTE: Withdrawal (WTHD) is an entry used to record an action taken in another state. DMV records "Withdrawals" for historical/informational purposes. Withdrawal entries should not be used to determine if a driver has valid driving privileges in Oregon or in another state.

The following are three examples of the format used for Suspensions, Revocations or Cancellation actions taken by Oregon. Following the Oregon examples is an example of a Withdrawal segment using the ACD format to record actions taken in other states; it is the standardized format used to transfer record information from state to state.

STANDARD CONVICTION ABBREVIATIONS TABLE

The Standard Convictions Abbreviations table contains the standard conviction abbreviations used by DMV to post convictions to driving records. The table is made up of the following four columns:

COLUMN 1 – LITERAL

This column contains either the Oregon conviction abbreviation (literal) or the out-of-state ACD code. Oregon conviction abbreviations are three to 12 character alpha/numeric abbreviations for the offenses. ACD codes are the standardized codes as determined by the AAMVA Code Dictionary (ACD) used to transfer driving record information from state to state. ACD codes are three characters; an alpha character followed by a two-digit number. These codes appear on Oregon driver records as convictions or withdrawals:

- When an out-of-state commercial licensed driver moves to Oregon and the driver’s previous state driving record is transferred electronically to Oregon; or
- When an Oregon licensed driver receives a conviction in another state. The out-of-state conviction is entered on the Oregon driver record using ACD codes.

COLUMN 2 – CITE

This column references the Oregon Revised Statute (ORS) or other cite authority for the offense. The following are examples of the entries found in this column.

807.610ORS Chapter 807, Section 610.

F397.5Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations, as contained in Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Part 397, Section 5.

L OLocal (town/city) Ordinance

COLUMN 3 – CLASSIFICATION

This column lists the maximum (most serious) classification (class) type and code allowed for the offense. The driving record may show a lesser class type and code than the one noted in the table column, but not higher.

Class Types (‘F’ being the most serious)	Class Codes (‘A’ being the most serious)
F – Felony	A
M – Misdemeanor	B
V – Violation	C
LO – Local Ordinance	D

COLUMN 4 – TEXT

This column contains a summary of the offense as written in applicable law, regulation, or rule. If the abbreviation shown in the “Literal” column (1) is an ACD code, the text column will contain the standardized definition of the code.

Conviction information shown in SUBSCRIPT text indicates the entry type is obsolete. Obsolete entry types are no longer used (entered on records), but may still appear on some driving records.
